FOREWORD

In today's information driven economy, we are in a fast paced world where a lot of things are done in line with the latest development in technology. That does not in any way leave the public procurement process behind. In this regard, capacity building and development is the nucleus of a robust public procurement system of any nation. In other words, to be in league with the rest of the world towing the line of international best practices, the procurement cadre in Nigeria gaining so much prominence as it were must be adequately developed with the requisite knowledge and understanding that account for optimal delivery in the practice. This ultimately will take the reform to a safe haven where in the long run Nigeria could beat its chest in the prevention of corruption through procurement among the comity of nations.

The Public Procurement Research Centre (PPRC) FUTO in collaboration with the Bureau of Public Procurement (BPP) on the training programmes for the year 2019 is poised to promote a good understanding of the fundamentals of the public procurement process as a means of promoting sustainable good quality procurement performance. The quality of the faculties with their well-grounded background in their different field of expertise that will handle the different classes on procurement by dint of their wealth of experience and practice is a sync to the quality of officers that will emerge from this training centre. These programmes are designed as a fulcrum to meet emerging trends and latest development in the field of procurement. The focus and utmost preoccupation of this training is to ensure that the crop of officers handling the public procurement process in their different MDAs exhibit up-to-datedness in the field.

Mamman Ahmadu, FNIQS.

Director-General, Bureau of Public Procurement (BPP)

FROM THE OFFICE OF THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

As the Foremost University of Technology in Nigeria, the Federal University of Technology, Owerri was established with the mandate to operate practical and result-oriented programmes and training targeted towards transforming the nation's economy from consumer-oriented to production-oriented with sound technological base.

To achieve this, my administration, through a well articulated vision encapsulated in my Mantra "Driving The Culture of Excellence", is re-engineering and repositioning the Federal University of Technology, Owerri to be a truly world class University through recruiting, nurturing and developing uniquely promising students and exceptional staff in Science, Technology and enterprise to the benefit of our globalized world.

It will be crucial to note that the objectives of the Bureau of Public Procurement in harmonizing existing government policies and practices on Public Procurement and ensuring probity, accountability and transparency in the procurement process complements the mantra of my administration "Driving the Culture of Excellence". It was against the backdrop of meeting the objectives of the Bureau of Public Procurement in the country that the Public Procurement Research Centre (PPRC) of the University was established as the first of its kind in the country. The Centre engages in human capacity building and acquisition of requisite knowledge and skills of procurement processes that translate to effective and efficient service delivery. Since its establishment in 2012, the Centre has organized several trainings and development programmes aimed at promoting better understanding of basic facts of Public Procurement processes which will give rise to efficient procurement performance.

Moreover, in order to enhance transparency and accountability in the procurement processes of the University, the Federal University of Technology Owerri also established a Procurement Unit, charged with the responsibility of economic efficiency, transparency and value for money of procurement related matters in the University and this office has been alive to its responsibilities.

I strongly recommend the trainings and programmes of the Public Procurement Research Centre (PPRC) of the Federal University of Technology Owerri for the year 2019 to all Ministries, Departments and Agencies desirous of entrenching quality procurement process in their organizations

FROM THE DESK OF THE DIRECTOR

In 1999, World Bank Country Procurement Assessment survey conducted in Nigeria established the link between poor/weak public procurement procedures and corruption. The study also revealed the grave implications/negative consequences of the ugly situation on national development especially in the area of infrastructural development. The Report specifically revealed that 60k was being lost to underhand practices out of every N1.00 spent by Government. Further still, the Report revealed that an average of ten Billion US Dollars ($10b) was being lost annually due to fraudulent practices in the award and execution of public contracts through inflation of contract cost, lack of procurement plans, poor project prioritization, poor budgeting processes, lack of competition and value for money and other kinds of manipulations of the procurement and contract award processes.

The Federal Government of Nigeria in a determined effort to checkmate this menace, instituted some economic reforms which included the Public Procurement Reform. In order to effectively implement this reform for minimizing open abuses to known rules, processes and standards in the award and execution of public sector contracts in Nigeria, Budget Monitoring and Price Intelligent Unit (BMPIU) known as Due Process was set up in 2001. Due to recorded successes of this reform, the public demanded for the institutionalization of this reform. This invariably led to the enactment of the Public Procurement Act of 2007 which established the Bureau of Public Procurement charged with the responsibility to amongst others, provide Legal and institutional framework and Professional Capacity for public procurement in Nigeria.

The objectives of establishing the Bureau of Public Procurement are to; Harmonize existing government policies and practices on public procurement and ensure probity, accountability and transparency in the procurement process;

ESTABLISH PRICING STANDARDS AND BENCHMARKS;

Ensure the application of fair, competitive, transparent, value-for-money standards and practices for the procurement and disposal of public assets; and Attain transparency, competitiveness, cost effectiveness and professionalism in the public sector procurement system.

Among other measures put in place by BPP to achieve its mandate, is the establishment of the Public Procurement Research Centre at the Federal University of Technology, Owerri in October, 2012. PPRC's purpose in general shall be to build a world-wide recognized professional community of scholars and practitioners devoted to improved efficiency, fairness and transparency in public procurement and also to provide applied research, training, education and scholarly publication. The PPRC, FUTO has since then designed in collaboration with BPP a detailed curriculum for short term training workshop for Chief Executives and Procurement Officers in MDAs in Nigeria. These workshops are scheduled monthly. Special arrangements can be designed for any Procuring Entity upon request.

The PPRC, FUTO has in addition to the monthly training workshops mounted Postgraduate Studies (PGD and MSc) in Public Procurement.

We are indeed, ready to deliver efficiently and effectively on our mandate.

Engr. Prof. Remy Uche, FNSE
Director, PPRC FUTO.

INTRODUCTION

The Public Procurement Research Centre, Federal University of Technology, Owerri was commissioned on 8th October, 2012 by the United Nations Development Programme Country Representative in the presence of the dignitaries from National Assembly, Heads of Ministries, Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government including the Centre initiator, the Bureau of Public Procurement.

PURPOSE

PPRCs purpose in general shall be to build a world-wide recognised professional community of scholars and practitioners devoted to improving efficiency, fairness and transparency in public procurement and also to provide applied research, training, education and scholarly publication.

PHILOSOPHY

To Educate, Research, and Empower the Public Procurement Professionals in order to achieve value for money in all procurements and disposals.

VISION

It is envisioned that the PPRC will be the premier academic source for advancing public sector procurement in Africa.

MISSION

The Mission of the PPRC is to provide the public procurement community quality research, advanced educational opportunities, and continued professional development by advancing theoretical and practical knowledge in public procurement.

OBJECTIVES

The core objectives of the Centre shall include but not limited to the following:

Establish best practice in Public Procurement through training and research

Conduct research projects on issues covering the broad spectrum of public procurement professionals, including studies examining critical areas such as:

evaluation of procurement performance and matrices, procurement preferences, the compensation study, a host of other challenges that policy makers and professionals are concerned with.

Build bridges among various stakeholders.

Develop the Public Procurement Body of Knowledge that is needed to meet the changing needs of public procurement scholars and practitioners.

Source linkages and Partnerships in Public Procurement best practices.

Explore and drive opportunities to introduce procurement curriculum in Nigerian universities.

PPRCT 01:

UNDERSTANDING EFFECTIVE PUBLIC PROCUREMENT IN PRACTICE

BACKGROUND

As the emphasis on managing for results increases, the demand for rigorous and evidence-based procurement process is rising. Government, donor agencies, development partners and other stakeholders (citizens and National Assembly) want to know whether funds allocated to projects have been spent appropriately and desired outcomes achieved.

Effective public procurement drives economic development of any country. With the drastic drop in crude oil prices, the pressure on Ministries, Departments and Agencies (MDAs) of government to operate even more efficiently has never been greater. MDAs need to spend wisely and make effective procurement decisions. Central to this imperative is the need for organisations to have staff who have the appropriate procurement skills. To respond to this need, PPRC, FUTO has developed a practical procurement skills training programme dedicated to the needs of the MDAs. The programme is underpinned by essential procurement principles and models that will equip staff and their organisations for current and future challenges.
